Brian M. Trinque

Department of Economics The University of Texas at Austin 512.475.8557

trinque@eco.utexas.edu

EDUCATION

Ph.D., Economics, The University of Texas at Austin, August 1993

"Challenge-response mechanism and unimodal strategy: Inertia and options in India's economic development." Supervisor, F. T. Jannuzi.

Fields: development, urban & regional, institutionalism

B. A., Economics, Ohio Wesleyan University, June 1982

PAPERS AND PROJECTS

Junior Fellow in British Studies, UT-Austin, 1996 to present.

- Participant in "Rethinking British Romantic Fiction," Summer Seminars and Institutes Program, National Endowment for the Humanities, University of Nebraska Lincoln, 16 June 25 July, 2003.
- "Review of Raj Krishna: selected writings," with F. T. Jannuzi, Journal of economic development and cultural change, 47, 1998, (October), 228-231.
- "The political economy of South Asian stagnation: a vicious cycle of state, market, and society," in Cal Clark and K. C. Roy, Comparing development patterns in Asia, Lynne Rienner, Boulder, CO, 1997, 95-133.
- "Cost-benefit & economic impact analysis of revised minimum standards for licensed child care providers in Texas," with Jon Wainwright, report to the Texas Department of Protective and Regulatory Services by Tonn & Associates, Inc., September 1996.
- "Transforming traditional agriculture in a model of endogenous growth," Working Paper, March 1995.
- "Dynamism and enervation: Contrasts in India's agrarian economy," Discussion Paper Series No. 94-18, Department of Economics, Southern Illinois University-Carbondale, 1994.
- "The new economics of growth: An assessment after 15 years," Contemporary south Asia 1, 1992, (January), 67-91.

"Functional economic integration and growth center policy: A case study of industrial location policies in Maharashtra, India," Fulbright-Hays Research Fellowship Field Report, September 1988.

"Popper and the economists," presented at the meetings of the Western Social Science Association, April 1987.

FIELD RESEARCH

Maharashtra, India, Sept. 1987 to Sept. 1988.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Lecturer, The University of Texas, fall 1995 to present: introduction to microeconomics, introduction to macroeconomics, macroeconomic theory, money & banking, comparative economic systems, contemporary Indian economy, development problems & policies in Latin America

Adjunct Professor, St. Edwards University, fall 2000 & fall 2002: comparative economic systems

Visiting Assistant Professor, Southwestern University, fall 1996: history of modern economic thought

Associate Graduate Faculty Member, St. Mary's University, fall 1995: cost-benefit analysis

Visiting Assistant Professor, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, fall 1994 to spring 1995: economic development (graduate & undergraduate courses), contemporary economics (non-majors), introduction to macroeconomics

Visiting Assistant Professor, Southwest Texas State University, fall 1991 to spring 1994: economic development, introduction to microeconomics, introduction to macroeconomics

CURRENT RESEARCH INTERESTS

Neoliberal policies & neopopulist movements in Latin America.

Financial risk management: evolution & consequences.

Popular culture & economic institutions in Britain, 1800 to 1850.